AYER'S Cathartic Pil

(SUGAR COATED,)
ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physic Philanthropists, read their Effects and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stom

Dr. J. C. Ayer. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complai

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Sir: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

Post Office, Hartland, Liv. Co., Mich., Nov. 15.

Dr. Ayer: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church,

Dr. Ayer: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct.

Dear Sir: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM,

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Te Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis,

Dr. Ayer: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRID

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6

Honored Sir: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec.

Dr. Ayer: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for

VINCENT SLI

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred plaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflamm and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTOR

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Thorn's Compound Extract o

COPAIBA AND SARSAPARIL

POSSESSES advantages not enjoyed by any other medicine for the cure of Sexual Diseases, which with an enlightened public, render it highly popular. A desideratum long sought for in the medical world, needs no confinement or change of diet. In its approved form of a paste, it is entirely tasteless, and causes no unpleasant sensation to the patient.

It has acquired the utmost fame in almost every part of Europe. It has been examined, approved of and sanctioned by the faculty of medicine, and recommended by the most eminent of the profession.

As the above valuable preparation has been extensively counterfeited by unprincipled parties in the United States, to SECURE THE GENUINE observe this LABEL upon and covering the bottom of each Pot:

J. B. Thorn, Chemist, London; John L. Tarrant, New York, Sole Agent for the United States.

The Stamp on each pot will also bear the name of the proprietor, and the United States Agent.

DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS will observe on each package the following label:

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The increased reputation and great demand for Thorn's Compound Extract of Copaiba and Sarsaparilla, has induced others to offer unprincipled inducements to medicine. Venders are particularly warned that they may be on their guard, and not dispense an impure article, calculated to injure them, to destroy the merits of the original preparation, which, the subscriber, (successor to James Tarrant, whom it was first introduced into the United States,) attached his signature to this caution, to counterfeit which is forgery. More Treason.—One of the judges of the Supreme Court of Oregon, without the fear of the government before his eyes, has had the hardihood to decide that the act of Congress making greenbacks a legal tender is unconstitutional and void. Steps have already been taken to have his honor incarcerated in Fort Alcatraz, as a copperhead, a secessionist and traitor.—Calaveras Times.

The above is from a California paper of the Confederate stripe of Democracy, and while it is true that one of our judges decided as stated, it is wholly false that any steps like those suggested have been taken. With a single exception, we have never known Judge Stratton's loyalty or integrity to be questioned, and that exception is itself so unprincipled and so malignant and abusive of everybody who has an opinion differing from its own, that it neither indicates nor influences public sentiment in this State. We modestly think the judge erred in his decision, but we have no doubt that he was entirely conscientious, and if, on fuller argument in the Supreme Court, his judgment is changed, we are quite sure that he will very cheerfully give to the currency of the government such validity as Congress thought it ought to have. But that he is "a copperhead, a secessionist and traitor," no reasonable man suspects in the slightest degree; and no one has suggested any such absurd and ridiculous measure as the Times mentions. If this was inferred from the course and unjustifiable attack upon him above alluded to, which was universally regretted and disapproved of, it is only another instance of the mischief caused by the folly of an officious and official brawler without reason. The people of Oregon are too loyal, and have too much respect for an enlightened and independent judiciary, to abuse or seek to punish any of their judges for their opinions, especially in regard to questions that divide the most patriotic and conscientious, and which can only be settled by the highest tribunal in the land. Till that is done, intelligent newspaper criticism is fair, but conceited and ignorant newspaper abuse like that which was so unsparingly heaped upon Judge Stratton, is discreditable, malicious and mischievous.

General Hooker.—The Albany Evening Journal says it is the fashion of the world to kick a fallen man. Many of those who were the most clamorous for the appointment of Gen. Hooker and most beslavered him with puffery in the earlier days of his administration, are now his most violent assailants. Journals that a few weeks since insisted that his very blunders were but the outcroppings of masterly "combinations," now refer to him in terms of derision and contempt.

This is unmanly and unfair. Gen. Hooker has disappointed the public expectations; but this was mainly because the public expectation exacted too much. The mistake was in insisting that he was not only a good, but a great general. He was put in a place which he could not fill, because the place demanded not only the talent of the soldier, but the genius of the strategist and statesman. In requiring him to do a work beyond the scope of his abilities, he seemed to fail in all the higher attributes of generalship: just as a man, crushed under a load greater than he can carry, suddenly appears to be shorn of all strength.

Gen. Hooker is not a man to be contemptuously consigned to the limbo of military failures. Few of our generals can show as brilliant a record in the earlier stages of the war. He was the hero of some of the bloodiest conflicts of the Virginian campaign. His courage, his gallantry, his chivalrous bearing, were proverbial. Wherever the fight was thickest, wherever the crisis was most desperate, wherever the example of steadfast valor was most needed—there he was ever found. At Fair Oaks, in the seven days' fight before Richmond, at Antietam, he won imperishable renown. Gen. McClellan, who is proverbially chary of compliments, characterized him as that "most excellent officer, Major General Joseph Hooker, who was eminently conspicuous for his gallantry and ability as a leader in several hard fought battles in Virginia."

Let us try and be just toward those who fail, as well as generous toward those who succeed.

Threatened Retaliation.—The Washington correspondent of the Bulletin says:

The action of the Richmond Government, in selecting two Union captains to be executed in retaliation for those shot in the West by order of Gen. Burnside, has caused no little anxiety in the minds of our officials here. The tendency of things seems to be toward the raising of the black flag. The two officers shot by General Burnside were charged with recruiting within the Federal lines, (Kentucky.) The rebels claim to have captured many officers who have not only recruited in the Confederate States, but have actually recruited the slaves upon Southern plantations; and if death is to be the fate of such, they will now begin. Only one of the two officers, however, now designated to be shot in Richmond, has been engaged in recruiting Virginia. The other is a New Yorker. Should the hardihood and daring of the rebel authorities lead them to execute these two officers, it will be, I fear, but the beginning of a system of retaliation, stopping, perhaps, only with extermination.

A Sad Exemplification.—Our citizens, says the Baltimore American, of June 20th, had yesterday a sad exemplification on our streets of the significance of that term—"poor white trash"—as applied to the privates in the ranks of the rebellion, a body of some sixteen hundred captured by Gen. Grant having arrived here to be embarked for some other point. Let it be noted that the term "poor white trash" originated in Dixie itself, and is therefore as much a coinage to be accredited to the cotton lords of the Hammond and Rhett school as is that other offensive term, "mudsills," which they also have the credit of having set afloat.

But who that glanced along the ranks of this woefully ragged and pinched assortment of rebel troops—this characteristic representation of the "chivalry" come to grief—and did not feel and know that they were no more accountable or responsible for the origin and continuance of a godless rebellion than were the horses they may have bestrode whilst in the military service of the magnates at Richmond. Countenances utterly vacant; eyes lighted by no intelligence; no education; no anything that stamps men as thinking, responsible human beings in a crisis such as that gotten up by the Southern politicians, they were seen to be, at a glance, as only those tools in the hands of designing men to pull down a government depending on the intelligence of the people, for the purpose of erecting a military despotism, such as now holds them in its iron grasp, upon the ruins. Incapable of reading or writing even, as the bulk of them in this case—being from Mississippi—were, they were of that class mentioned by Gregg, of South Carolina, as measurably a nuisance to the planters and their negroes—a class of which South Carolina could boast the possession of about one hundred and fifty thousand before the war commenced, out of a white population of about three hundred thousand.

Looking upon this woe begone and miserable procession of the captured, the idea was more than ever strongly impressed upon the thoughtful mind that the South must be rescued from itself. These men were the victims of their leaders, the tools of politicians; and the class to which they belong in the South will never know freedom more until the power of their tyrants is effectually broken. Let it nerve anew every arm to deal effective blows in their behalf, in behalf of that system of free government they are made to assail. Only when the Slave Oligarchy is overthrown will these men cease to be its victims.

Growls of a Rebel Journal.—The Richmond Examiner is furious against Jeff. Davis on account of the recent experiment of sending Stephens to Washington and its miserable failure. It says:

President Davis' proclamations and pronunciamentos, his horrible threatenings and gloomy appeals have been so often repeated, that they are the sneer of the world. But never have they resulted in one solitary performance. He is very obstinate, very bitter, when he gets into a quarrel with some Southern officer over whom the law gives him temporary control. He is very firm indeed in maintaining a minion or a measure against the smothered indignation of a people &c. are compelled by their present unfortunate situation to support silently a great deal from their officials. But when his duty brings him into contact with the enemy he is gentle as the sucking dove.

* * * * * * *

Stephens was sent to Washington with a letter of credence to Lincoln, and another of instructions to himself to President Davis. A good deal was said in this last letter about titles, etc., which looks pitiful enough; and the rest relating to the business on hand, amounts to this: that if the Federal Government will only vouchsafe a civil word or so—will say, for instance, that it would like to mitigate the horrors of war—the Confederate Government would be happy to indulge in boundless compassion for the two Yankees aforesaid. As to the two murdered Confederate officers in Kentucky, who feels compassion for them?

The Vice President went on his errand as far as Hampton Roads; was stopped by the enemy's Admiral there, to whom he signified his desire to open communication with the Federal Government; kept two days in his steam tug on the water, and then dismissed with a flea in his ear.

Now who will deny that the Confederacy makes a sorrowful figure in this matter?

Rebel Joy over the New York Riots.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 18th of July, says:

THE BEGINNING OF CHAOS.

Riot, murder and conflagration have begun in New York. It is a world's wonder that this good work did not commence long ago; and this excellent outbreak may be the opening scene of this inevitable revolution which is to tear into fragments that most rotten society and leave the Northern half of the old American Union a desert of blood-soaked ashes. We bid it good speed.

But all this may have little or no effect on the war, or, at least for a long time. Let us not deceive ourselves, for internal revolution and even utter ruin in a nation by no means weakens it for foreign aggression, of which revolutionary France is a notable example. The news is cheering to us, indeed, because it portends the breaking up of the whole structure of Yankee society. Yet the process may be long; and in the meantime the desperate energy of their war for the conquest of the Confederacy may grow more furious for a season. No matter; we can now at least see the end of it. This one insurrection may be suppressed for a moment, but it will be the parent of other and still worse convulsions. We have but to persevere in our determined resistance, and gird ourselves to the task of winning our independence more sternly than ever, yet a while; and we shall see the giant, but hollow hulk of the Yankee nation bursting into fragments and rushing down into perdition in flames and blood. Amen!

What Irish Soldiers Think.—The following is an extract from a letter written by an officer in Corcoran's brigade, showing the feeling existing in the army in relation to the New York riots:

In the papers of July 14th, we get terrible accounts of the riots and mob law in New York. New York has heretofore been so law abiding that I can hardly realize the scenes of revolution and bloodshed there enacted. The army look at it with grief—it is literally a fire in our rear. Is the country worth preserving if its citizens at home turn against it?

New York, August 14.—The Herald's Washington dispatch report that all is quiet in the Army of the Potomac. The greater portion of Lee's forces are south of and in the immediate vicinity of the Rapidan, though a considerable force was kept between the Rapidan and the Rappahannock. It is anticipated Lee will attempt to gain our rear with a corps, while the remainder of his forces will operate in front. No fears are entertained as to the result of any attempt to flank us, and a repetition of Jackson's maneuver would doubtless result more disastrously to Lee than did his invading strategy.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 15th.

San Francisco, August 16.—To-day's dispatches state that some difficulty is met in the enrollment in Saline and Lafayette counties, Mo. Outside of the military posts in those counties the enrolling officers dare not show themselves. Sufficient guards cannot be procured at present and all the available military force in that section is required to protect the posts and Government stores in them.

New York, August 15.—A letter dated Winchester, Tenn., August 12th, says: The 123d Illinois has just returned from a trip into Alabama, where they went for the purpose of dispersing a party of bandits near the junction of Larkie's Fork, and Point Rock river. About 300 Texans were met and driven back and followed for some distance down Point Rock river, and a number of prisoners taken. Refugees issued from hiding places and poured in continually until the command withdrew towards Winchester. The expedition traveled 46 miles south of Winchester.

Fugitives from conscription say every male citizen capable of bearing arms has been forced into the rebel service, and carried off.

In Georgia, the prevailing opinion is that Gen. Bragg will fall back to Rome as soon as Rosecrans advances, and that desperate efforts will be made to hold that place.

Kansas City, August 15.—The female prison fell on Thursday in this place, burying eleven women. Four were killed, and six wounded—one mortally.

Cincinnati, August 15.—Brig. Gen. Thos. Welsh, commanding the 1st division of the 9th corps, died last night of congestive fever acquired in the campaign in Mississippi.

A detachment of cavalry had a brush with forty deserters in Fulton county, Illinois.

New York, August 15.—A telegram from Niagara Falls says that Vallandigham leaves there for Quebec.

Yreka, Aug. 16.—A fight took place last night between H. K. White, editor of the Union, and R. Nixon, publisher of the Journal, in this place. Particulars, as learned from witnesses, are as follow: Nixon assaulted White with a club, striking him on the head. The blow, though a powerful one, and struck with a heavy club, did not knock White down. White then drew his knife and struck Nixon in the shoulder, who fell off the sidewalk. White sprang upon him and struck him four or five times with the knife, and had it not been for the interference of a bystander, who caught his arm and pulled him off, he would have killed Nixon on the spot.

White is considerably cut on the head from the first blow of the club. Nixon is badly cut, though he will recover. His left arm is split open near the shoulder, his two cuts in the head, one in the shoulder and one in the leg.

Morris Island, (S. C.) August 5.—On Sunday morning last, August 2d, the gunboat Ottawa and one monitor took their position off Fort Wagner to indulge in shell practice, and keep the gunners in the work quiescent, so that our men in the advanced trenches should not be annoyed by their fire. The practice from the Ottawa's hundred-pounder Parrott was exceedingly fine. Nearly every shot plunged into the rebel works, and the garrison were kept in the bomb proofs. Sumter attempted with her large rifled gun to drive the impertinent annoyance away, but without avail. The rebel shots fell in the water all about the Ottawa; not in a single instance did they strike her. The latter paid no attention to the wrathful salutations of Sumter nor Moultrie, but, with the utmost coolness and precision, bolt after bolt was pitched into Wagner, until the fort seemed to have been covered with smoke and dust. Wagner occasionally responded with her ten inch columbiad, but was able to accomplish nothing. Finally, a shot from the Ottawa either dismounted a gun or blew up a small service magazine in Wagner, and woke up the garrison. In their rage they sprang to their guns, opened fire upon our works and upon the Ottawa, and for an hour the fire was more intense and rapid than ever before proceeded from that work. Our batteries instantly responded with the greatest rapidity. The rebel works on James Island and caught up the deafening strain and bellowed forth noisy salutations, while Sumter, Moultrie and Johnson joined in the infernal chorus. The fire was unexampled in rapidity and generally in accuracy. Wagner was covered with bursting shells and enveloped in smoke and dust, but the rebels stood by their guns with the greatest steadiness. Our trenches were gleaming with the fitful fire of exploding shells accompanied with sulphurous flames, alive with the whistle of solid shot, the hum of shell, and the shriek of rifle projectiles, and all that variety of strange sounds that proceeds from a hundred flying missiles. The work in our trenches necessarily slackened, as the men found it essential to safety to take cover very frequently. This thundering cannonade continued for an hour or more, when the New Ironsides hoisted her anchor and moved majestically to her old position off Wagner, where she anchored and brought her port broadside to bear on the rebel work. In a moment she fired a shot from her rifled gun forward, and getting range, let fly a broadside at the Fort from her two hundred pound rifle guns and eleven inch guns. Her fire, thus opened, continued with great steadiness and accuracy. The effect of the fire was soon manifest. The rebel guns one after another were silenced. Finally only an occasional shot from the ten inch columbiad at the noble frigate indicated the fact that the Fort was still occupied. Sumter fired some spiteful shots at the Ironsides, but did not strike her. The rebel fire from Wagner being subdued, the Ironsides ceased shelling, and about noon all again was again silent, save an occasional shell from Johnson, which did no damage. We suffered no casualties during the day. It is not known, of course, that the enemy lost any, but it is not improbable that they did from the Ironsides' fire.

Citizen prisoners are constantly brought in, most of whom take a parole not to encourage the rebellion. A few take the oath of allegiance.

Parties recently arrived from Richmond represent the people there as sunk in the deepest gloom. They are deserting the city in crowds, in consequence of the high prices of the necessaries of life. Sickness prevails to an alarming extent, and the want of medicine is badly felt. Desertions from the army are frequent. There were but few rebel troops at Richmond on the 7th of August, and no indications of a movement on the part of the rebel army. Jeff. Davis' proclamation calling on the deserters from the army to return remains a dead letter.

The report that Davis and Lee quarreled is discredited by some, but there is a terrible exasperation among the people against the rebel Secretary of State, Benjamin.

Talk in Richmond place Lee's army at from forty to sixty thousand strong, scattered all over the country, from Gordonsville to Hanover Court House, and northward to within a few miles of the Rappahannock, for the purpose of subsisting the animals used in transportation. The drought has been severe in Southern Virginia, and in many parts the intense heat has blasted the crops.

Boy Drowned.—Yesterday afternoon, a by named Eldridge Tibbetts, about 13 years f age, was drowned while bathing in the er, near the upper saw mill. It appears at the deceased and a number of other boys ere diving off some logs attached to a raft r the mill, and were trying to show the pth of the river. Tibbetts plunged into the ter, and when he came to the surface his nds were, in the most strange manner, sped over his face. He sank again most immediately, to rise no more. After waiting some time for his reappearance, boys became alarmed, and one of them, med Starr, dived down after him. Starr ys he saw deceased at the bottom of the er, but was afraid to render him any assistance. Almost an hour elapsed before the dy of the unfortunate boy was recovered; hen of course life was totally extinct. It is pposed that when deceased dived he struck head against something at the bottom, hich partly stunned him.

Arrived.—The Dalles steamer brought wn a large number of passengers from the per country last evening, most of whom peared to be pretty well supplied with the herewithal to "make the mare go." Messrs. ells, Fargo & Co., received $15,000 in gold t.

Trinity Church.—Divine service will be ld in this church to-morrow morning, at o'clock, and in the evening at 7½ o'clock. nday School at 2 p. m., and bible class at p. m. The public are respectfully invited attend the Divine services.

Poetic.—We select the following verse of patriotic poem from among a bundle of asmodic contributions received by us almost aily from every part of the State. This is at an average specimen of the affecting tpourings heaped upon us by many ambitious aspirants for poetic fame. After the ertion of gigantic mental efforts, we were bled to extricate this one verse from the dst of an interminable labyrinth of something written in an unknown tongue. The thor was evidently laboring under a frenzy patriotic rapture during its composition, hich will account for the originality displayed in its style:

ERIAN'S ISLE OF GREEN.

Cum awl you sons of erin's Isle and lisen to my dity,
A bout the Galent 60 and fire boys of bew York sity:
the yaukys know are fiteing the soderh chetrelly, and our banerd shinee most glorus A monxt the stars of liberty.

this stage of the translation, our emotions erpowered us, and we were constrained to stpone the publication of the remaining eces of this pathetic effusion until our recovery, which is considered extremely doubtful.

Strange Fish.—We were astonished last evening, while looking over the theatrical programme of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to perceive at the head thereof an engraving of some nderful and mysterious being, whose species is unknown. In answer to many inquiries on the subject, we regret to confess that have in vain essayed to solve the problem. e of our friends is confident that it is an alligator, while another as stoutly affirms it to a shovel-nosed shark. Each backs his opinion heavily, and appealed to us for a decision, which we could not give. We referred them Manager Waldron, who alone can answer e mooted question—"Is it an alligator, or it a shovel-nosed shark?"

A Game Affair.—We were considerably rtled last night, about 10 o'clock, by the dden appearance of an apparition at the trance of our sanctum, tenderly conveying mething covered over with a white cloth. spicions of an infernal machine were at st engendered; but our fears were rapidly ssipated on recognizing in the aforesaid apparition a stalwart retainer of the Empire Restaurant, who deposited his burden on the ble, and retired mysteriously. On raising e white cloth, we discovered a rich repast phensant, quail, &c. This compliment of rs. Tromblay's was highly appreciated. ur P. D., after partaking copiously, solemnly announced his intention to transfer himself and his debts to the Empire Restaurant. e says that's the place for his money.

Useful.—E. J. Northrup & Co. have just ceived a large number of improved "apple parers," which they offer for sale at extremely w prices. We experimented with one of these useful articles yesterday, and were astonished at the rapidity and neatness with which it performed its work. It is impossible "peel" apples half so efficiently by hand. Every housekeeper should possess one of these bor-saving apple parers; they are deemed indispensable by all who have seen or used them. Northrup & Co. have also for sale every description of hardware; they invite inspection of their stock.

Theatrical.—This evening the drama of "The Isle of St. Tropez, or Launay the Poisoner," will be performed. This drama has been a long time in preparation, and we have no doubt that it will be represented in the most effective manner. The laughable farce of the "Irishman in Petticoats" will conclude the performances.

Boy Drowned.—Yesterday afternoon, a boy named Eldridge Tibbetts, about 13 years of age, was drowned while bathing in the river, near the upper saw mill. It appears that the deceased and a number of other boys were diving off some logs attached to a raft near the mill, and were trying to show the depth of the river. Tibbetts plunged into the water, and when he came to the surface his hands were, in the most strange manner, clasped over his face. He sank again almost immediately, to rise no more. After waiting some time for his reappearance, the boys became alarmed, and one of them, named Starr, dived down after him. Starr says he saw deceased at the bottom of the river, but was afraid to render him any assistance. Almost an hour elapsed before the body of the unfortunate boy was recovered; when of course life was totally extinct. It is supposed that when deceased dived he struck his head against something at the bottom, which partly stunned him.

Arrived.—The Dalles steamer brought down a large number of passengers from the upper country last evening, most of whom appeared to be pretty well supplied with the wherewithal to "make the mare go." Messrs. Wells, Fargo & Co., received $15,000 in gold dust.

Trinity Church.—Divine service will be held in this church to-morrow morning, at 10½ o'clock, and in the evening at 7½ o'clock. Sunday School at 2 P. M., and bible class at 3½ P. M. The public are respectfully invited to attend the Divine services.

Poetic.—We select the following verse of a patriotic poem from among a bundle of spasmodic contributions received by us almost daily from every part of the State. This is about an average specimen of the affecting outpourings heaped upon us by many ambitious aspirants for poetic fame. After the exertion of gigantic mental efforts, we were enabled to extricate this one verse from the midst of an interminable labyrinth of something written in an unknown tongue. The author was evidently laboring under a frenzy of patriotic rapture during its composition, which will account for the originality displayed in its style:

ERIAN'S ISLE OF GREEN.

Com awl you sons of erin's Isle and lisson to my ditty, a bout the Galent 69 and fire boys of new York sity:
its yankys know are fiteing the sodern chevrelly, and our banerd shipps most glorus A mongt the stars of liberty.

At this stage of the translation, our emotions overpowered us, and we were constrained to postpone the publication of the remaining verses of this pathetic effusion until our recovery, which is considered extremely doubtful.

Strange Fish.—We were astonished last evening, while looking over the theatrical programme of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to perceive at the head thereof an engraving of some wonderful and mysterious being, whose species is unknown. In answer to many inquiries on the subject, we regret to confess that we have in vain essayed to solve the problem. One of our friends is confident that it is an alligator, while another as stoutly affirms it to be a shovel-nosed shark. Each backs his opinion heavily, and appealed to us for a decision, which we could not give. We referred them to Manager Waldron, who alone can answer the mooted question—"Is it an alligator, or is it a shovel-nosed shark?"

A Game Affair.—We were considerably startled last night, about 10 o'clock, by the sudden appearance of an apparition at the entrance of our sanctum, tenderly convoying something covered over with a white cloth. Suspicions of an infernal machine were at first engendered; but our fears were rapidly dissipated on recognizing in the aforesaid apparition a stalwart retainer of the Empire Restaurant, who deposited his burden on the table, and retired mysteriously. On raising the white cloth, we discovered a rich repast of pheasant, quail, &c. This compliment of Mrs. Tromblay's was highly appreciated. Our P. D., after partaking copiously, solemnly announced his intention to transfer himself and his debts to the Empire Restaurant. He says that's the place for his money.

Useful.—E. J. Northrup & Co. have just received a large number of improved "apple parers," which they offer for sale at extremely low prices. We experimented with one of these useful articles yesterday, and were astonished at the rapidity and neatness with which it performed its work. It is impossible to "peel" apples half so efficiently by hand. Every housekeeper should possess one of these labor-saving apple parers; they are deemed indispensable by all who have seen or used them. Northrup & Co. have also for sale every description of hardware; they invite an inspection of their stock.

Theatrical.—This evening the drama of "The Isle of St. Tropes, or Launny the Poisoner," will be performed. This drama has been a long time in preparation, and we have no doubt that it will be represented in the most effective manner. The laughable farce of the "Irishman in Petticoats" will conclude the performances.

Attention, Militia!

HEADQUARTERS 1st REGIMENT O. M.,
PORTLAND, Aug. 21st, 1863.

The Field and Staff Officers, and the several organized Military Companies in this Regimental District, will appear at Salem on the 15th September prox., armed and equipped for parade and review. The regiment will be encamped for at least three days, or during the pleasure of the Commander-in-Chief.

The Captains of the several Companies will have copies of their muster rolls forwarded to these headquarters as early as practicable.

By order of the Colonel.
T. B. TREVETT, Adjutant.

Storage.—The Fire-Proof Stone Warehouse, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, "not made of wood," at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1.50 per ton per month storage, and although storage in wooden buildings is $1.00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages this subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

Dalles, Jan 20, 1863 1m RASEY BIDEN.

N. B. A liberal discount made for lots of 50 tons or more, where goods are Stored for more than one month.

☞ In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a specific and tried cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

Liver Complaint Cured.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 19, 1861.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—Gents: I have been afflicted with the LIVER COMPLAINT for more than four years, attended, the most of the time, with constipation of the bowels, and, at other times, with diarrhoea. During the last year I had a constant pain about the Liver and shoulder blade, and in my left side, with great uneasiness when I lay upon it.

I took DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, according to the directions, for three months, and am now a different man. I had taken them but a short time before I felt great relief. I am able to do as much work as most men. My health is now restored. Yours truly, DAVID PORTER.

ONE OF THE QUARTERMASTERS.—As is to be expected, there are some original specimens in the army whom red tape cannot tie, or hold fast, if it happens to get round their hands or their head. The Cincinnati Commercial gives the following sketch of one of these, which is decidedly good:

Every body in the 3d division of Crittenden's corps, knows the Quartermaster of the 59th Indiana—Hight Igo—in fact his fame is not confined to General Van Cleve's division. No sir! not by no means. His eccentricities are the theme of conversation—from Triune to Stone river, from Kentucky to Nashville.

His first introduction to favorable notice of high military authority occurred at Louisville. Shortly after the gallant 59th came into service, he stopped General Wood one day in the streets of Louisville to inquire upon the subject of "yarn socks." The General informed him that he never transacted business on the street, and suggested the propriety of calling at headquarters. A short time after this the General met Igo on the street, and having heard something queer about Igo's forage account, requested some information with regard thereto. Igo coolly remarked—"General, I never transact business on the street. You will please call at my quarters, when I shall be very happy to afford you an insight into my affairs."

The next day a couple of the General's staff officers called upon the imperturbable Igo to investigate matters, and they investigated "in a horn." Igo remarked that if they had waited until next morning to make their report, things would have worked, but they foolishly went into the presence of the General immediately upon their arrival, and when they reported "Our Quartermaster Igo's business all fine sound," the General couldn't see it, and dispatched another officer who could resist the blandishments of whisky punch long enough to conduct the investigation.

The result of this move was a rather tart request from the Quartermaster General's Department to Lieutenant Igo to send up all the papers belonging to his department to Washington for adjustment, a request which our friend complied with by heading up vouchers, receipts, requisitions, &c., in an ammunition keg, with a letter stating that, inasmuch as the Department had a great many more clerks at its command than he had, and were probably better acquainted with the "biz" of making out quarterly reports of returns, they might be able to understand how things stood between him and the Government, confessing at the same time that he "couldn't make head or tail of the blasted figures." In due course of mail, Igo received a communication from the Department informing him that if he did not immediately send in his report for the quarter ending on the 31st of October, he would find himself in Washington under arrest. To this Quartermaster Igo answered thus:

"SIR—Yours of —— date received. Contents noted. I have long been desirous of visiting the city of 'magnificent distances,' but have not hitherto been able to realize sufficient funds at any one time to gratify that desire. I therefore gratefully avail myself of your obliging offer to defray the expenses of my journey, and most respectfully suggest the propriety of your going on with your rat killing."

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
MARTIN IGO,
Lieut. and A. A. Q. M. 59th Ind. Vols."

This closed Igo's official correspondence with the department at Washington. He had the "good luck" to be captured by Morgan afterward, and, of course, Morgan destroyed all his papers. That struck a balance for him for the quarter ending last October. He had another stroke of good fortune at Stone river, on the 1st of January, in having a wagon captured. Of course all his papers were in that identical wagon. He was very indignant that a battle did not take place about the last of March, as that would have saved him a heap of trouble. Do not think, however, that our Quartermaster has done anything that will not bear investigation, for a more honest or conscientious man is not to be found in the Quartermaster's Department, but Igo has a holy horror of vouchers, invoices and receipts all in triplicate, and small blame to him for it.

"My dear," said an anxious father to a bashful daughter, "I intend that you should be married, but I do not intend that you shall throw yourself away to any of the wild, worthless boys of the present day. You must marry a man of sober and mature age, one that can charm you with personal attraction. What do you think of a fine, intelligent, mature husband of fifty?" The timid, meek, blue eyed little daughter looked in the old man's face, and with the slightest possible touch of interest in her voice, answered, "I think two of twenty-five would be better, papa."

In Boston both of Edward Everett's sons have been drafted and are going to serve in person. The father says that he shall do the same if drafted, preferring to do so rather than to furnish a substitute or pay $300. Professors Dwight and Johnson, two tutors and eighty students, have been drafted from Yale College—in the First Ward, New Haven.

Old Jokes

Simpson says the ladies do not set their caps for the gentlemen any more; they spread their hoops.

'What church do you attend, Mrs Partington?' 'Oh, any paradox church where the gospel is dispensed with!'

The meanest Butternut I ever knew, was the one who stole a sugar whistle from a nigger baby, to sweeten a cup of rye coffee with.

An old fellow being assured by his pastor that he could not be a good Christian unless he took up his daily cross, immediately caught up his wife and lugged her about the room.

An afflicted husband was returning from the funeral of his wife when a friend asked how he was. 'Well,' he said pathetically, 'I think I feel the better for that little walk.'

A widow once said to her daughter—'When you are of my age it will be time enough to dream of a husband.' 'Yes, mamma,' replied the thoughtless girl, 'for the second time.' The mother fainted.

The Detroit ladies put their old crinoline to good use. They suspend them by a pole run through the center, thus forming a circular trellis, around which cypress vines and morning glories clamber in the wildest luxuriance.

Mrs Partington naturally requests—'Ike, never be a picket, for I see in every paper that they are driven in, and, if they ever drive you in you'll stick.'
